EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:

On Thursday, December 16, 2015 FOR-NY partnered with The National Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency – Rochester Area (NCADD-RA) and the Family Recovery Network for the eight FOR-NY Recovery Talks: Community Listening Forum. Over 45 people attended the event that kicked off with Janice Holmes as the Lead Speaker from the Family Recovery Network.

“Every time we stay out of hospitals and jails, and get into jobs, we save NY taxpayers millions of dollars.

Rochester, NY

PURPOSE OF FORUM: CELEBRATE THE JOY OF RECOVERY AND IDENTIFY BARRIERS TO RECOVERY

- ❖ Put a face to people and families in Recovery; a voice to people impacted by addiction; and a space for families and friends who have lost someone to addiction
- ❖ Help individuals and families overcome the stigma that prevents so many from seeking help
- ❖ End discrimination around addiction that create barriers to Recovery
- ❖ Engage and empower Recovery advocates in communities across the state
- ❖ Create an organized advocacy effort to change state policies to expand access to Recovery

HIGHLIGHTS – COMMENTS, PROBLEMS ENCOUNTERED, OPPORTUNITIES IDENTIFIED:

- We must end stigma, which is more than discriminatory; it's often fatal.
- Families must be represented in treatment and recovery because addiction is a family disease, often resulting in children inheriting learned behavior from their parents.
- Physicians lack addiction training which results in their prescribing pain medication to people in sustained recovery which can lead to relapse.
- Lack of communication between military and civilian agencies have led to over-prescriptions of opiates, with consequences that result in dishonorable discharge and incarceration.
- Upstate beds and medication assisted treatment is often unavailable, which results in cycles of relapse and overdose.
- We must have treatment on demand - hitting rock bottom should not be a prerequisite to getting help.

- We need to humanize the disease of addiction with empowering language and end the crisis of conscience that treats people who are addicted as moral delinquents.

FINDINGS: COMMON THEMES

- There are not enough available beds for people, especially for women, who are addicted to alcohol and other drugs.
- Waiting lists of up to a month are literally killing people with relapse and overdose that often results in death.
- People are in desperate need for proper medical treatment, including detox.
- More forums are needed to bring people in the recovery community together to talk about solutions to the addiction epidemic.
- The children of parents who are addicted are some of our most vulnerable citizens who need help.
- Insurance is one of the biggest barriers to recovery, because managed care is often making critical decisions that should be made by addiction treatment providers.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

- Increase funding and resources for family navigators and organizations that can address the urgency of the public health crisis of addiction.
- Increase funding and resources for drug courts and other alternatives to incarceration.
- Provide peer recovery supports for individual and family members can receive evidence based, appropriate services.
- Increase treatment options for individuals beyond the 7-10 day provisions that often exist.
- Recognize family members as primary clients and provide them with supports specific to addiction and recovery.
- Regulate physician education so that it includes addiction and recovery training that is up to date.

On December 16, 2015, Assemblyman Mark Johns, member of the Assembly Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Committee, thanked almost fifty community residents for attending the 8th FOR-NY Recovery Talks: Community Listening Forum, which was co-sponsored by the National Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency (NCADD) – Rochester Area, and the Family Recovery Network.
